

Monday, June 04, 2012

Tough questions smart answers

Publication: Mail Today, Agency: Bureau
Edition: Delhi, Page No: 27,

TOUGH QUESTIONS SMART ANSWERS

“During my grandfather’s time, if you told your employee to do something, he would do it,” says Pallavi Jha, granddaughter of legendary industrialist Walchand Hirachand.

“But in today’s world, he may ask you back, ‘Are you sure you want me to do it?’” says Jha, who is the chairperson and managing director of Walchand PeopleFirst Ltd, which has partnerships with leading international learning and self-development firms such as Dale Carnegie Training (US) and PerformanSe (France) that teach people to respond to such questions.

To commemorate its 100th anniversary, Dale Carnegie Training announced the launch of the Advanced Dale Carnegie Course (ADCC) in three Indian cities—Delhi, Mumbai and Bangalore—in partnership with Walchand PeopleFirst.

Dale Carnegie Training kicks off course in partnership with Walchand PeopleFirst

Only those who have already done the basic Dale Carnegie course and are looking to extend their skills to a higher level are eligible for this advanced course.

Walchand PeopleFirst Ltd has promoted ventures across diverse sectors such as civil construction, heavy engineering, automobiles and sugar.

Pallavi Jha,
chairperson & MD,
Walchand
PeopleFirst Ltd.